Gary Woodley is inspired by lines, surfaces and edges all around him. Have a look around you. Where can you see lines? What types of lines are they? Are they straight, curved, wobbly, irregular, long, short, thick or thin?

Find a line on the ground. Look up, are there any lines in the sky? If you followed these lines, where would they lead you to?

Describe your lines in the box below.

Spread out a long sheet of paper. Choose a pen or a pencil and draw the lines that you can see without taking your pen or pencil off the paper.
